

HOUSEHOLD RENEWABLE ENERGY INSURANCE

Do you have, or are you thinking of installing, a renewable energy system in your home that would take advantage of the Feed-in Tariff?

If you are, then Naturesave Insurance, an ethical insurance provider that has been using the insurance industry as a vehicle for sustainable development since 1994, has a household insurance policy that covers your renewable energy system in your home.

More specifically the policy covers you for:

- Material Damage—usual coverage including storm, lightning, theft and fire;
- Mechanical Breakdown—over and beyond any warranty cover;
- Loss of Revenue—emanating from material damage or mechanical breakdown of the renewable energy system;
- Public Liability—third party property damage or bodily injury caused by your Renewable Energy System.

Please complete the other side of this leaflet to advise us of the renewable energy system you have.

For a quotation and/or a copy of the policy terms and conditions please contact:

Please note:

- All systems must be MCS approved and eligible for the Feed-in Tariff.
- This cover is offered as part of a wider household insurance policy and is not available in isolation.
- The cover only applies on Renewable Energy Systems up to 50 kW.
