Plan Bee in Schools:

As well as offering a fully managed bee hive service to our clients we understand the importance of educating future generations on the importance of the environment and believe in involving local schools as much as possible. Hosting projects within schools lets us involve pupils in raising awareness of the plight of the honey bee as well as improving the UKs biodiversity and environment for years to come.

Support from The Naturesave Trust enables us to provide a fun and engaging way for school pupils to get involved in our cause, by providing blank hives for pupils to decorate according to a series of Scottish themes- which they then enter into a public vote- and providing invaluable lessons on how to utilise their surrounding environment through beekeeping we have created a competitive way of the teachers, pupils and friends and family to learn about bees and the ramifications of what they do for us.

About Plan Bee:

Plan Bee is the fastest most natural way to make a positive impact on the environment, a sustainability business with the simple philosophy – 'Planet, People, Profit', we work with our clients to create a proactive solution to the ailing environment. Unlike with many other initiatives which simply offset the carbon impact of that business or industry, our customers are actually investing in the planet. Plan Bee is the driving innovation in improving corporate social responsibility and sustainability practice across the industry, economy and community.

About our CEO:

Warren Bader discovered the wonderful world of bees purely by chance, needing an outlet from the stressful world of being a film and TV producer in South Africa, he found himself an allotment and started growing fruits and veggies. Fascinated by the idea that they were all possible thanks to the humble honey bee, Warren realised that if the use of pesticides and harmful farming techniques persisted there would be no bees left to pollinate our foods and crops. Sensing the need for a 'plan bee', our company was born and through our hive hires with various clients across the UK we are doing our bit to protect the honey bee and raise awareness of their importance within our environment.
